MUNDER CAPITAL TO ACQUIRE INTEGRITY ASSET MANAGEMENT

BIRMINGHAM, MI, December 1, 2010 -- Munder Capital Management, a money management firm serving institutional and individual investors, today announced that it is acquiring Integrity Asset Management, a Louisville, KY-based institutional investment management firm with investment operations in Rocky River, OH. Financial terms of the transaction were not disclosed.

Under the agreement, the firm will become a wholly owned subsidiary of Munder Capital Management. Integrity Asset Management's investment strategies and management teams will remain in place, and it will retain its current name, location, and brand.

Integrity, with more than $3.0 billion in assets under management¹, provides investment management services to a diverse group of corporate, public, endowment, foundation, Taft-Hartley, and sub-advisory clients. The firm has demonstrated its expertise in managing value-oriented equity strategies by providing clients with consistently strong risk-adjusted returns, leading it to be named in recent years, as one of "The Best Managers You Have Never Heard Of" by PLANSPONSOR magazine.

This partnership enables both firms to leverage each firm's strengths. "Our union with Integrity allows us to partner with an outstanding asset management firm that shares our commitment to investment excellence," said Jim FitzGerald, President and Chief Operating Officer at Munder Capital. "Integrity has a stellar investment team, proven investment processes and a consistent long-term track record. We look forward to teaming up with them for our clients' mutual benefit."
